There is a great amount of speculation going on as to the date of the unal vote upon the tariff bill and the subsequent adjournment of Congress. This no man can now foretell, nor will the wise ones attempt a guess. The senators in charge of the bill have endeavored to name a date early in June, but nave not succeeded, and it depends very much upon the attitude of those senators who are so strongly opposed to the income-tax feature of the bill.

The House cound itself again to-day without a quorum of Democrats who wanted to vote for the rule fining each member 10 for every absence when a roll-call required a quorum, and consequently an early adjournment was bad, and the Democrats at once went into a caucus upon the subject. There are 218 Democrats in the House, and 179 constitutes a quorum, leaving 38 to spare. There are always a few members ill or properly excused, so that in fact a comparatively small number refusing to vote can leave the House without a quorum. There is excused, so that in fact a comparatively small number refusing to vote can leave the House without a quorum. There is now a law which provides that a member shall forfeit his pay on such days as he is absent and unexcused, but this is never put into force. The object of the proposed fine, of course, is to compel the members to vote, both kepublicans and Democrats, so as to always have a quorum, but there is a serious question as to the enforcement of a penalty when a member is actually present and declined simply to vote. simply to vote.

THE OYSTER COMMITTEE.

The committee from the Virginia Legislature appointed to confer with the Maryland committee regarding the recent capture by the Virginia oyster boat of two Maryland vessels for illegal dredging, arrived here to-day, Judge R. H. Cardwell, Col. R. E. Boykin, and Col. John Bell ligger have been in Crisfield, Md., for several days taking testimony in the case. The main question in the case seems to be as to the presence of the Maryland reasels in Virginia waters when surprised ie main question in the case seems to as to the presence of the Maryland ones in Virginia waters when surprised the cyster police boat. In the testiony given by the Maryland dredgers by refused to answer this question, hen Judge Cardwell would ask, "Were undedging in Virginia waters?" the unsel for the Maryland men would sugstitute that they say nothing to criminate emseives, and they would refuse to swer. The committee will leave heremorrow, and will meet the Maryland mmittee at some point in Virginia to rejete the testimony of the Virginia on who were present at the capture.

dge Hoke, of Lincollin, N. C., who been in the city for several days, empanied by his sister, was at the peaking of Senator Vance, he said:

speaking of Senator Vance, he said:

"I was a member of the Legislature that elected him to the Senate for his present term, and will never forget the opening words of his speech of acceptation." Thirty-two years ago, gentlemen, leat in this hall a member of this body. Ever since that time I have continuously arved my State, and have been honored by her with public positions of trust and onfidence. There's a record," continued Mr. Coffield, "that has few parallels. Make no mistake about it, sir, the people of North Carolina love Zeb. Vance as few public men are loved by their people, and will continue to honor him with the most exalted positions of public trust until borne down by the weight of years he will ask to be relieved from the yoke of public service to pass the remainder of a well-spent life in the guiet of the mountain home he loves so well. There may be some recalcitrants to be found in the cities, but in rural North Carolina 56 per cent. of the people are tor Senator Vance for anything he wants."

Messrs. Reynolds, King, and Woods, of North Carolina, were among the few uninterested listeners to Senator Peffer's speech in the Senate this morning.

A SUBSTANT DEMONSTRATION. Front Royal and Riverton will be the scene of a jubilant demonstration on the lat of May in commemoration of the completion of two magnificent iron bridges across the branches of the Shenandoah at those points. There will be a trades parade and industrial display, big speeches and a bigger dinner. Five counties will participate.

and a bigger dinner. Five counties will participair.

Senator Daniel has accepted the committee's invitation, and will be the orator of the day. Congressmen aucker and Turner have also been invited to be present and deliver speeches on the occasion.

Mr. John Goode, of Mecklenburg, whose name has been mentioned among others who will probably enter the race against farmer Paul Edmunds, was on the floor of the House yesterday. Accidentally dropping into the farmer's seat, he was soon engaged in an animated conversation with several members of the Virginia delegation, whose seats adjoin that of Mr. Edmunds. The latter coming in in the meantime, took the nearest vacant Mr. Edmunds. The latter coming in in the meantime, took the nearest vacant seat, and joined in the conversation. The Speaker just them called for a rising vote, and Col. Goode, forgetting the years that have clapsed since the clarion notes of his eloquent strain resounded through hall and corridor of the Cap.tol, mechanically started to rise in response. "Hold on there," said the farmer, "you may have my seat, but I'll be hanged if you can vote in my stead until my people say so." Mr. Goode immediately recovered himself, but the incident afforded considerable merriment to the few who understood the situation.

The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Ladies' Aid Society of Meade-Memorial church.

The City Council met last night in the Council chamber with the following members present: Sims, O'Brien (president), Utz, Morton, E. W. Weisiger, Fitzgerald, Campbell, Ely, Hart, and Poole.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The reports of the chief of police and the fines of the Mayor's Court were submitted. The recommendations of the Street Committee were read and adopted by sections. They were to and adopted by sections. They were to the effect of ordering some improvements in the way of guilies and culverts. City Engineer Lipscomb next read a lengthy paper setting forth the condition of the street between the street-car tracks and two feet on the outside of the rails as found on the examination recently made by him. Mr. E. W. Weisiger made a motion that the matter be referred to the Street Committee, which was done. The financial report of the almshouse was read, and upon a motion the bills ordered to be

The formation of an ordinance was adopted, looking to the purchase of the Manchester Water Company's plant, and providing for the management of same by the city. It was decided to put in a light at the corner of Eleventh and Hull light at the corner of Eleventh and Hull streets. It was decided that a commission should be appointed to look into the advisability of purchasing a hose, horse, and fire-wagon, for the fire department. Upon a motion of Mr. Sims, it was decided that a committee of four, one from each ward, should be appointed to see if some arrangement could not be made to secure a better street-car schedule, the committee to report back to the dule, the committee to report back to the

At 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was turned in from the Fourth ward. The fire originated in the stables in the rear of the Beattle Block, on Hull street, between Eleventh and Twelfth. The entire stables, wood and coal houses, and other outbuildings and fences were consumed.

At one time the immense buildings of the Messrs, Beattle and J. W. Toney the Messrs. Beattle and J. W. Toney were in imminent danger, but the fre laddles soon arrived and put a stop to the fiery element. The origin of the fire is not positively known. Messrs. H. C. is not positively known. Messrs. H. C. and D. D. Beattie's loss is estimated at about $1,000. They had an insurance on the stables for $300 in the Virginia State Insurance Company. There was no insurance on the other buildings.

Mr. W. J. Carter, the druggist, lost two buggies, a lot of provender and other articles which he had stored away in the stable and outhouses on his premises.

No insurance. Mr. J. W. Toney had his stable pulled to pieces to prevent the flames from spreading. No insurance.

The second alarm turned in was caushouse on the premises of Mr. Richard Vaughan, on Eleventh street between Hull and Bainbridge. This house was in close proximity to the fire which occur-red just a short while before. Cause un-

The third alarm, turned in at 12 o'clock, was caused by the burning of a lounge in the residence of Mr. Richard Vaughan, on Eleventh street between Hull and Decatur. Officer Jones arrested William Johnson, a colored boy about fifteen years of age, about 1 o'clock yesterday. Johnson is suspected of knowing something about the numerous fires which occurred yesterday, as he was engaged in that vicin-ity splitting wood yesterday morning. He will have a hearing before the Mayor's Court to-day.

At the meeting of the Henry Literary and Debating Society, held Thursday night, Mr. E. H. Wells occupied the chair. The question for debate was: "Re-That Manchester adopt a probibition law."

Mr. J. H. Rowlett discussed the ques tion in the affirmative and Mr. W. L. Porter in the negative. The question was decided in the negative.

Mr. George P. Cox read a selection, which was highly appreciated, Mr. H. G. Carter declaimed, Mr. Thomas H. Fish was elected an honorary member. Rev. Dr. A. Binga, pastor of the First (colored) Baptist church, has been conducting a revival meeting of unusual in-terest at his church for nearly two weeks, Last night 107 persons arose for prayer, and there were four professions of faith in Christ.

The Union Democratic Club held its last meeting before the primary election last night in Powell's Hall. Quite a large number of the membership of the club were present, and the meeting was an interesting one throughout. A large number of the candidates for municipal offices addressed the club.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The early dealings at the Stock Exchange were characterized by extreme duliness, and the market, after opening fractionally higher, began to yield under the influence of heavy engagements of gold for export by Saturday's trades. The fact at the close that $4,000,000 of the yellow metal will leave the country to-morrow came in the nature of a surprise after the ploubts expressed by certain bankers early in the week as to the necessity for making shipments of over $2,000,000 at the outside. The effect upon the stock market, however, was comparatively slight. The dealers devoted most of their attention to the Grangers and Reading, but it yielded only by per cent, from last night's figures. In the meantime there were wide fluctuations in American Tobacco and Delaware and Hudson. The former dropped 3 to 85% and railied to 91, while the latter rose 2 to 141%. reacted to 140%, and recovered to 141%. As a rule, the lowest prices were touched before 1 o'clock. Subsequently Sugar enjoyed a lively spurt, and on heavy purchases from 92% to 93%, the preferred at the same time selling up from 10% to 95%. The success attending the efforts of the bulls in this stock frightened the shorts, and the general list railied & to % per cent, under the leadership of Atchison, which sold at 14% pla 16. The buying was in anticipation of the publication of the names of the committee would be a very strong one. Total transactions were 150,000 shares, of which 43,400 were Sugar and 25,500 Atchison. Speculation closed firm at the top figures. Railway and miscellaneous bonds were weak, except for the Atchison issues.

It was announced in Wall street today that arrang ments had been made to day that arrang ments had been made to on issues. It was announced in Wall street to-bonds were weak, except for the Atchison issues.

It was announced in Wall street today that arrang ments had been made to ship $3,200,000 gold to France on the steamer La Gascogne. The shippers are: Lazard Freer, $120,000; Herdelbach & Ickleheimer, $500,000; Ladeuburg, Thaiman & Co., $500,000; Baring, Magoun & Co., $500,000, and Zimmerman & Forshay, $500,000. Lazard Freer obtained $1,200,000 from their bank and private sources, and of the balance, $1,400,000 was taken from the sub-Treasury. The total withdrawals from the treasury were $1,000,000, which was paid for in United States notes, at the request of treasury officials, who apparently did not desire to increase their already large stock of treasury notes. The shipments being larger than expected, created a good deal of comment, and there was much theorizing as to the reason for the movement. Money on call easy at 1 per cent.; last loan at 1 per cent. and closing offered at 1 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 31/404/2 per cent.; bar silver, 68. THE FORFCL SURE MADE.

Decree Entered Ordering the Sale ... $2,000,000 h Smallest Bid to be Taken It was quick work getting the scattered counsel in the Richmond and Danville counsel in the Richmond and Danville foreclosure case back to Richmond in time to participate in the hearing of the case yesterday.

In response to Judge Goff's telegram Thursday evening, all who were here the day before returned except the representative of the Carnegie Company.

Mr. Charles H. Coster, charman of the reorganization committee, was present, and represented by Mr. F. L. Stetson, attorney. The receivers of the road were present, and were represented by Mr. Hugh L. Bond.

Mr. Henry Crawford represented the corporation.

Mr. Henry Crawford represented the corporation.

The Pullman Car Company, the Standard Oil Company, and the Western Union Company were represented by Major Stiles, Mr. J. Alston Cabell, and other attorneys, and these corporations resisted the decree.

The court held two sessions during the day, and the decree was entered in the afternoon.

THE DECREE

The decree provides for the sale of the road sixty-two days from date. The company is allowed, as a form of law, twenty days within which to make redemption, after which the sale will be advertised. The sale will take place in Richmond on or about June 15th.

There seems to be no doubt of the fact that the reorganization committee, which controls 90 per cent. of the bonds, will buy the road.

Judge Goff said that the sale was to be made in a shorter time than usual, but he thought the interests of the property demanded a speedy sale. Attorney Stetson said it was a matter of vital importance to sell before July 1st. That the road had to raise about that time $6,000,000 in cash, and he did not know who was going to put up the money. Asked as to what that sum was needed for, he replied that one million was for receivers' certificates, four millions for floating debts, and one million for back interest.

The decree provides for all of the property of the Danville railroad covered by the mortgage under which the property is sold, including the property of the company in the District of Columbia. The property in the District of Columbia is to be first offered for sale as a separate parcel, and then the railroad, appurtenances, equipment, material, lease-hold interests, bonds, and other property offered in the same manner. The property is then to be offered as a unit.

The sale realizing the most will be accepted by the masters. No bid will be accepted for the railroad less than $2,000,000.

All sums of money received by the masters shall be placed in such bank or banks as the court may direct.

M. F. Pleasants and Thomas S. Atkins, of Richmond, Va., and Charles Price, of Salisbury, N. C., were appointed special masters to make the sale after advertisement once a week for six weeks preceding the day of sale in three newspapers, one in Richmond, one in New York, and one in Baitimore.

Justice John's Court.

The Justice dealt with the following cases yesterday morning:

An ex-convict named William E. Campbell, who was pardoned by the Governor on November 23d last, was up charged with breaking and entering the house of Charles Hilton and stealing a value; also, with being a suspicious character. The charge of larceny could not be proved, but he was required to give $500 surety for being a suspicious character, and was sent down in defauit.

James Hickman (colored) was charged with breaking into and entering the dwelling-house No. 214 south Seventh street and stealing a lot of household furniture, the property of the High Constable. Hickman removed the goods from the premises after the articles had been levied upon by a depaty constable. He was sent on to the Hustings Court for petty larceny.

An attachment was issued for Cora Barber, who failed to appear in answer to the charge of drunkenness recorded against her.

Joseph Lamberto, charged with assaulting, beating, and threatening to kill Gertrude Lamberto, his wife, was discharged on payment of costs.

Several minor offenders were also dealt with by the Justice. Justice John's Court.

A LONG AND USEFUL CAREER, David Dudiey Field was born in Had-dam, Conn., February 13, 1805, and named after his father, the distinguished Congregationalist clergyman.

The younger Field graduated at Williams College in 1825, studied law in New York, and was admitted to the Bar in 1828, when he became a juntof partner in the firm of Henry D. Sedgwick, From that time until 1828, he was continuously.

in the firm of Henry D. Sedgwick, From that time until 188 he was continuously engaged in the practice of his profession, and attained great prominence by his efforts in the cause of law reform.

In 1841 Mr. Field prepared three bills, which were introduced and rejected by the Judiciary Committee of the New York Legislature. Five years later he wrote and distributed in pamphlet form a series of articles on "The Reorganization of the Judiciary." In September, 1847, he was appointed commissioner on practice and four sections, until January, 1850, when the completed "Codes of Civil and Crimi-nal Procedure" were submitted. Both codes were enacted into law. The radical codes were enacted into law. The radical design of the new system of civil procedure was to obliterate the distinction between the forms of action and between legal and equitable suits. This system has been adopted in Twenty-four States and Territories. Mr. Field's criminal cole has been adopted in eighteen States and Territories.

and Territories.

In 1857 Mr. Field was appointed by the State of New York to prepare a political code, a penal code and a civil code. They were completed in 1865, and covered the entire province of American law, and presented to the people in compact form the whole law by which they were government.

In 1873, after seven years' labor, Mr.

In 1873, after seven years' labor, Mr. Field presented to the Social Science Congress his "Outlines of an International Code," which attracted the attention of all jurists, and was translated into French, Italian, and Chinese.

Mr. Field voted with the Democratic party, although opposed to slavery, until the nomination of Fremont, whom he supported. During the war he actively defended the administration. For eight weeks in 1876 he filled in Congress the unexpired term of Smith Ely, of New York. At that time he acted with the Democrats, and was one of the advonagelor. Democrats, and was one of the advo-cates before the Electoral Commission, He also contributed largely to current literature on political topics.
